

Drama techniques help to overcome cultural barriers. How to behave in a new environment, in a new country? How to act when shopping, how to handle a job interview? What to say when meeting new neighbours on the corridor? Drama techniques allow you to practice these situations in a safe environment.

Do Drama techniques help overcome language barriers? If so, how?

Do Drama techniques help in understanding and in establishing relationships with people in the new country? If so, how?